

EDF Ventures Investment, TherOx Inc., Files For IPO

IRVINE, CA (September 18, 2008) – TherOx Inc., a medical device company, filed an initial public offering on Thursday, September 4, 2008, to sell up to $100 million of common stock.

The company is focused initially on developing a system to salvage heart muscle in patients who suffer from an acute heart attack. The company's system has not yet received FDA approval and is currently limited by United States law to investigational use only.

Citigroup, UBS Investment Bank, Cowen and Co. and Wachovia Securities are listed as underwriters for the offering.